The vendor has just completed major renovations on this fantastic internal stairs solid highset home & is looking to downsize, allowing the next new owners to make some wonderful family memories of their own.

This lovely home offers plenty of options for either the growing family or anyone looking for two complete separate living quarters. Family members can utilise the fully self contained apartment / living downstairs while the rest of the family can use upstairs.

This home would also ideally suit anyone looking to work from home as well.

There is nothing worse than buying a property & then realise you have to renovate the kitchen or bathroom not long afterwards at a huge cost.
